Proclamation

Foster Family Appreciation Week

WHEREAS October 18th-24th is Foster Family Appreciation Week, an opportunity to recognize the many Nova Scotians who give so much love and support to children and youth in need of temporary care; and

WHEREAS today, there are about 630 foster families across the province who open their hearts and homes to young people; and

WHEREAS foster families provide safety, comfort, and security to help create brighter futures for children in every region of the province.

THEREFORE I, Stephen McNeil, Premier of Nova Scotia, do hereby proclaim the week of October 18th-24th to be Foster Family Appreciation Week in Nova Scotia, and convey my heartfelt thanks to all foster parents, and wish them every success as they continue to provide loving homes for children and youth as we navigate the various challenges of this pandemic.

Honourable Stephen McNeil, M.L.A.
Premier of Nova Scotia
